Judge Shumway Grants One Divorce

Little Business Before Short Calendar Session of Superior Court—Cases Assigned.

The superior court had a short calendar session here on Friday morning, lasting about an hour and a half. Of the eight matters on the list three were postponed and one went off the list.

In the case of Mrs. Charles W. Coburn of Revere, Mass., against the New Haven road, a suit for $5,000 brought because of the death of her husband, who was struck by an engine at New London and killed, the argument of a demurrer to a plea of judgment with costs was heard by Judge Shumway, who reserved his decision. The New Haven road claims the suit should have been brought in New Haven county.

Judge Shumway granted the motion to amend, for a three months' continuance, and for order of notice in the case of Allen Foundry A. vs. Libby Vint & Packing Co. and others. Judgment of foreclosure was granted in the case of the Savings Bank of New London against F. E. Strickland, administrator of the estate of F. E. Strickland, and others. The amount is $9,136.75, and the time fixed as the first Monday in July.

One Divorce Granted.
There was but one uncontested divorce case on the list, it being the suit of May E. Chapman of this city against Albert B. Chapman, formerly of Granby. It was granted on the grounds of habitual intemperance. They were married at North Attleboro, being then residents of Ashton, R. I. For eight months they lived in Moosup and thereafter for three years Mrs. Chapman returned to England. Returning to this country they lived at North Hampton and then went to Moosup for 18 months, and they have since lived in several places. Before they separated they lived on North Main street a year, but he left her three years ago. Almost from the first of their marriage Mrs. Chapman stated that her husband drank, yet while she so stated, he was not allowed to work most of the time. She thought he was a brackman. She is a nurse and housekeeper, caring for a woman at Norwich. Taverner has kept house for families in Preston and worked in the Occum mill. Her maiden name was Mary E. Shaw.

The case testified on behalf of Mrs. Chapman, and Judge Shumway considered the evidence sufficient. She was allowed to resume her maiden name.

Cases Assigned.
The following cases were assigned for trial:
Tuesday, May 31—Marion H. Dunbar vs. Nelson Dunbar, S. A. Dolbeare vs. David L. Akers.
Wednesday, June 1—T. C. Murphy and others vs. C. H. Schwarner, Hawthorne vs. Hawthorne.
Thursday, June 2—Margaret Kelley vs. Grace M. Kelley.

MEMORIAL PROGRAMME AT BRIDGE DISTRICT SCHOOL.
Three Members of Sedgwick Post, No. 1, G. A. R., Speak to the Children.

At the Bridge district school on Friday afternoon a pleasing Memorial programme was carried out in the senior room, where about 100 pupils were assembled. Principal F. H. Bushnell announced the programme and Miss Brunelle presided at the organ. The programme was carried out as follows: Singing, Tribute to the Brave by school; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Alfred Hartley, grade 3; concert recitation, Sheridan's Ride, grades 6 and 7; song, The Old Blue Coat, by school; recitation, For Grandpa's Sake, Lois Kinney, grade 3; concert recitation, Memorial Day, grades 2 and 3; recitation, In One Grave, Isabel Yerrington, grade 3; recitation, Old Glory, John Twining, grade 4; Salute the Flag and singing of The Star Spangled Banner, school.

A feature of the afternoon was the addresses by Edwin Spaulding, Albert A. Walker and Charles Spaulding of Sedgwick post, No. 1, G. A. R. Edwin Spaulding described Andersonville prison from a picture of the prison and told of his experiences there. Captain Walker also gave an interesting side of the days of '61, while Charles Spaulding spoke of the loyalty to country and flag which all should manifest. All were heartily applauded for their efforts, and a rising vote of thanks was given the speakers.

The exercises closed with the singing of America by the school.

I. singing society of 100 members, and on the following Saturday and Sunday, the Bundeslieders of the state is to be here to conduct rehearsals for the state singing fest which is to take place in Hartford on June 21.

Boss Farmer E. W. Yerrington of the Potomac company was spraying a few of the elm trees on Providence street near the postoffice Friday, using a new spraying outfit, the pump of which is operated by a small gasoline engine. It is a convenient apparatus and does a quick and efficient job, far surpassing the hand sprayer that has been used in former years. The elm beetles have already begun to bother some.

A. LINCOLN FELLOWS WINS ON CITIZENS' TICKET
Made Water Commissioner in Denver for Six Years—Formerly of This City.

The many friends of A. Lincoln Fellows of Denver formerly of this city, will learn with pleasure that he has been elected a water commissioner of that city, having been named on the citizens' ticket and chosen for a period of six years. He is a brother of Miss Florence Fellows of this city.

The Denver Daily News has a fine likeness of Mr. Fellows and says regarding his election: Officials of the water company, it was reported, were considering the advisability of applying to the federal court for a receiver. They were said to be of the opinion that by means of this remedy they could enforce rates that would pay interest on $14,000,000, their theory being that the court would accept the valuation fixed by the appraisers.

The carrying of the citizens' water amendment, however, places the company in a position which the officials, prior to election, could not bring themselves to contemplate. The citizens' amendment provides for a water commission of A. Lincoln Fellows, elected for six years; Edwin Van Cise for four years; and Arthur C. Anderson, elected for two years. This commission is empowered to provide for municipal ownership of the water system, either by the purchase of the present system or the building of a new one.
